

A HISTORY OF AUTHENTICITY.
TERROIR AND TRADITION.

The «Brasserie des Légendes» is an independent family brewery.

It is with intimate knowledge and a huge respect for the land that we cultivate the barley – at the family farm 'Beauregard' – which will be used for brewing all our beers. Thanks to our know-how of the brewing and our total process control in the manufacturing, we are proud to offer you a 100% natural beer.

The only beers in Belgium that are 100% 'terroir', from the field to the glass.

A popular tradition is the Ducasse of Ath, this remarkable event takes place every 4th weekend of August and dates back to the fifteenth century. It presents the Giants of Ath to the public, one of the Giants is the renowned Goliath, King of the Festival.

He is 4 metres tall and weighs 126 Kg.

Beer of high fermentation, refermented in the bottle, also available in keg.

Gouyasse, a local folklore beer.

Gouyasse meaning Goliath in the local dialect.

October 26, 1610: a funeral pyre was built in Ellezelles for the 38-year-old witch Quintine. In her book of spells, which has been passed along from generation to generation, we found her "magic" recipes. Today, we share them with you.

Wandering through our beautiful village, you will find a statue of Quintine. Be sure to rub her head while repeating in your best Walloon accent "Houp, houp, riki, rikete, padzeur les haies et les bouchons vole au diale et co pu lon", then make a wish – it will be granted!
