

FLANDRIA FOODS NV SA

Soups, sauces, broths and stocks for the larger table.

Being a 100% family owned Belgian company, Flandria Foods excels daily to support central kitchens, catering companies, food service companies and the food processing industry.

We develop and produce a wide range of (semi finished) food products for immediate use in the kitchen as well as flavours and seasonings for ready-meal applications, amongst others. We deliver tools to our customers for them to offer creative solutions towards the end consumer.

With our own state of the art production facility and a team of enthusiastic and responsible employees, Flandria Foods guarantees quality, flexibility and competitive pricing in an ever more demanding food market.

Besides supplying food products under our own brand, Flandria Foods is considered to be a reference partner to develop tailor made products for customers that want to preserve their own taste and brand identity. These solutions can be finished products that are put on the market through private label as well as products that function as a key ingredient in a customer's recipe.
